A black and white manga-style illustration of a building entrance. A large glass door is on the right, with a speech bubble coming from it. To the left of the door is a large bulletin board with several papers pinned to it. The bulletin board is divided into sections, some of which are labeled with numbers like 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14. A small sign on the left wall reads "NO PARKING". The scene is set in a modern building with large windows and a glass door.
